CONFUSIN' MEANNESS & RIGHTEOUS INDIGNATION...

MOVING? Please use form inside paper and give full information. Mailing list is run on Friday for following week.

There has been considerable flapdoodle around and about as the nation watched Jimmy Carter's tantrum in Chicago where he allowed as how "you'll determine whether or not America will be unified or, if I lose this election, whether Americans will be separated, black from white, Jew from Christian, North from South, rural from urban—whether this nation will be guided from a sense of long-range commitment to peace, sound judgment and broad consultation." This blast at opponent Ronald Reagan has been interpreted every which way from hysterical to plain old Georgia political tactics of giving your opponent the rough side of your tongue.

To understand Carter's explosion, you have to get behind the scenes and understand one of the political facts of life.

First Poll Returns!

Since the Columbus Day Holiday and getting into the mail about a day late last week has held up returns on our Opinion poll, we can not give you a very sensible report as this is written Tuesday morning. But there has been surprising unanimity on most issues. The first two dozen returns show overwhelming "no" votes on most of the questions.

However, concerning the Brucellosis program votes are about equally divided. A big majority favor grain reserve programs. Votes favored low interest farm loans, taking food stamps and school lunch programs out of USDA, halting foreign investment in farm lands and favoring licensing undocumented foreign laborers.

The first couple of dozen ballots on the presidential race produced a stunner. It was Carter 5 and Reagan 19!

Corn, Soybean Crop Estimates Below September Estimate

The revised crop estimate by USDA released Oct. 10 reveals continued lower expectations. The Sept. 30 to the heat wave during the past summer. The new corn crop figure of 6.47 billion bushels is one percent below the Sept. 1 guess. This is based on a projected yield of 90.8 bushels per acre.

Soybean production, placed at 1.78 billion bushels, revealed a decline of 4%.

Editor
Weekly Livestock Reporter
Fort Worth, Texas 76111

Dear Editor:
The following press release was issued on October 8, 1980. Due to its importance I am sending a copy of it to you directly. Attorney General Mark White today sent President Carter a telegram urging him to consider an important problem which needs immediate attention. White said that the windfall profit tax which was intended to be a tax upon the major producers of oil has instead fallen heavily on the small royalty owners. There are life. Any politician who has been far enough around the jug to find the handle, knows better than to stage a political rally in a Big Place before a Small Crowd. If you have to appear in a phone booth to reach overlow proportions with your crowd, then hike to the phone booth. But, by all means, have a big appearing turnout and if at all possible make it OVERFLOW! It fools the T&V audience and anyone else that sees it. Well, Sirs & Maams, if you want to know what triggered Jimmy's tirade, here it is:

Carter has been tryin' hard to patch things up with the Chicago people, including Mayor Jane Byrne (who was originally a Kennedy backer) and has been pourin' lots of Federal Aid into that city. When he was to make his Big Appearance at the Richard J. Daley Civic Plaza the scene was set for a rousing Democratic Rally. Mayor Byrne was reported to have indicated there would be two million citizens show up. Naturally this was not only improbable, but impossible, since the remnants of the old Daley machine have put the blocks to every thing Jane tries to do, when possible.

The official Chicago Police Dept. estimate said 40,000 showed up. Vivian Callanan, office manager of the Daley Civic Center, claimed she counted the blocks in the Plaza and you would have trouble jamming 5,000 people in there. Her estimate 2,000 head in the Plaza. Other crowd guessers ranged from 10,000 to a newspaper estimate of 25,000. Now, Chicago crowd estimators are notoriously far afield. Remember they claimed one million were there to see the Pope, and later checks of photos trimmed this estimate to 250,000.

Naturally, when Jimmy Carter was confronted with a thin crowd, which included some hecklers as usual, he was more than somewhat upset. So it aint any great wonder that he throwed a fit and tried to read Ronald Reagan not only out of the race, but also out of the realm of respectability. Not mean, just indignant, was Jimmy.

We suspect the tongue lashin' he gave Reagan was mild indeed to the one he gave the people who arranged that outing.

Ever thine,
The Editor.

P.S.: Uncle Dunk figures the biggest mis in history was the Excess Profits Tax Carter & Congress aimed at the Big Oil Boys. It missed the Big Guys and hit hundreds of thousands of Royalty Holders many of whom are gettin' by on purty thin gravel money-wise. Shades of the Volstead Act & Prohibition! Recent figures show that only 11% of car passengers fasten their seat belts. It may surprise the Burocrats how many of us will invest in air bags, if we have a choice! — Thassell, Brothers!

regressive tax that takes an inordinant amount of dollars out of the pocket of the small land owner, the "mom and pop," farm operation, and retired persons on Social Security. White pointed out that this is not a regional issue but one of importance and national impact. Although 1/3 of these royalty owners live in Texas, another 1/3 live in Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Kentucky and Arkansas. The other 1/3 live in California, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kansas and New Mexico. Exemption of royalty owners will not materially or adversely impact plans to utilize the proceeds of the windfall profit tax but will enable persons with a small independent income to exist without further reliance on federal assistance. Yours truly,

Mark White

Tax Advantages On Drought-Caused Livestock Sales

College Station — Recent rains in parts of Texas have stopped cattle liquidations but won't bring back lost revenues from premature drought-caused sales. A recent survey shows cattle numbers down 30 to 40 percent from normal due to such liquidations.

pastures and reduced water supplies should begin considering the income tax aspects of their losses.

According to Jose G. Pena of Uvalde, area economist with the Texas A&M University System, income from drought sales of inventory stock can be deferred for up to one year as outlined in the Farmer's Tax Guide.

Producers can elect to defer revenues from sales of certain livestock for one year if the sale was due to drought conditions. Pena says this particular election does not apply to livestock used for breeding, draft, dairy or sporting purposes.

If, because of drought conditions, a cow-calf producer sells more livestock than he would in a normal business year, he may elect to include sales proceeds in next year's income. Three conditions must be met: the cash method of accounting is used, it can be established that under usual business the number sold would not have occurred except for drought conditions, and drought conditions have resulted in an area being designated as eligible for federal assistance.

Pena says livestock purchased (stocker steers or heifers) as well as raised livestock will qualify. Sales do not have to take place in a drought area, but they must be due solely to drought conditions. Also, sales made prior to an area being declared eligible for federal assistance may still qualify.

To determine the amount of income eligible for deferral, a producer must first determine the average amount received per head and multiply the figure by the excess number of head sold due to drought.

When livestock kept for breeding, draft or dairy purposes are sold or exchanged solely because of drought, the sale or exchange is considered an involuntary conversion.

A rancher may elect to postpone taxes on any gains from sales of breeding livestock if replaced with livestock of like kind within two years from the close of the year in which the gain was realized, Pena explains. Tax on the gain may be postponed on the number sold in excess of the usual practice. Losses resulting from sales are deductible in the year they were realized.

Pena says the tax return for the year of sale should include (1) evidence of drought, (2) amount of gain realized, and (3) number and kind sold or replaced.

Tax returns for the replacement year should include (1) replacement purchase price, (2) number and kind of replacements, and (3) cost of replacements. Cost of replacement livestock must equal or exceed proceeds of livestock sold due to drought.

Many producers were hard hit by lack of rain earlier this year. Some of these losses can be reclaimed by careful attention to certain tax provisions which would not be applicable during a normal year, Pena says.

Unfortunately, "real" drought losses will be felt in the long run by poor livestock performance, lower carrying rates, weaker calves, lowered weaning weights which must be absorbed as part of the risk of ranching.

Page 12A WEEKLY LIVESTOCK REPORTER October 16, 1980 Carter Administration Failure to Recover Funds: "Indefensible"

Park Ridge, Ill. — "Totally indefensible," Robert B. Delano said here last week of a decision by the Carter administration that would permit Cesar Chavez's United Farm Workers union to keep federal funds it got in violation of federal regulations.

Delano, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said that the Community Services Administration earlier this month overruled its own regulations against funding labor union activities and "waived" a past violation of grants made to UFW.

"This decision could set a precedent for funding union activities that could be the sale managers and auctioneers, Ruben Reyes and Anthony Mihalski, P. O. Box 32828, San Antonio, Texas 78210, phone 512/349-2185.

cost taxpayers millions of dollars," Delano said.

He noted that two months ago, CSA's own inspector general found that nearly a million dollars in CSA funds had been used by UFW to construct a union microwave relay system and to support a UFW member credit union in direct violation of CSA's own regulations.

A Farm Bureau suit is still pending in District Court, Washington, D.C., against the Community Services Administration, the Department of Labor and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (now the Department of Health and Human Services) charging the unwarranted use of taxpayers' funds to finance UFW activities.

Plaintiffs in the suit are American Farm Bureau Federation, California and Kern County Farm Bureaus and a group of individual farmers and farm workers.

Texas East Polled Hereford Association Annual Meeting

The Texas East Polled Hereford Association held its annual meeting on Saturday, Sept. 12 at the Bel-Mar Acres Ranch in Gilmer.

Social hour started at 5 p.m. with everyone touring the home of Bell and Mark Russell. A tour was taken over the ranch to see the herd also. The cattle all looked good even through the pastures in East Texas are dry.

Dinner was served following the tour. Guest speaker was Horace F. McQueen, who spoke on imported beef still coming into the U.S. He brought out the fact that 50-60% of the beef served in our public schools is imported. Although a law was passed that only U.S. beef can be purchased, nobody was hired to inspect and enforce the law. He stressed the fact that we as cattle raisers should be choosy when dining out. Many restaurants serve imported beef also.

Another topic Mr. McQueen touched on is the new fair market value tax proposal going into effect in Texas. Everyone should check with their tax collector office and make sure they have signed the right papers for the farm exemption in the next two years. He said that we as ranchers could write to them to keep the agriculture exemption.

McQueen has a thirty minute program on a Tyler television station five days a week on Farm & Ranch News in East Texas. He invited area members to write to him the Polled Hereford news in the area.

Other guests included new breeders Lloyd and Gloria O'Brien of Gilmer and Leo and Juanita Rollins & Renee, also of Gilmer.

New officers for the coming year were elected. They are Mark Russell, President and Bell Russell, Secretary-Treasurer. Three new directors were elected are Mark Russell, Garland Monk, and Bill Little. The new sale committee is John Pierce, J. C. Mathews, and Don Hawthorne.

Polled Hereford Registration Leaders

Polled Hereford breeders from Missouri, Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma and Tennessee called the most registrations in the American Polled Hereford Association this past fiscal year, but South Dakota's Chester Gullikson again led the way in the most registrations by an individual breeder.

According to figures released by APHA at fiscal year-end (August 31) the Bath, S.D.-based Gullikson Polled Herefords retained the top spot it gained last year with 664 registrations this year.

Other leading registrants, with 250 or more, and the number of calves they entered on the APHA record were Ogechee Farms, Fairbairn, Minn., 580; Antonio Mountain Ranch, Pecos, N.M., 441; Glenkirk Farms, Mayaville, Mo., 348; Joe Harvey, Jaktin, Ga., 318; E. B. Gee Ranch, East Prairie, Mo., 305; Felton Hereford Ranch, Maryville, Mo., 284; Hoy Hathorn, Louisville, Miss., 278; Lowell Burgett, Scooby, Mont., 272; CMR, Senatobia, Miss., 267; and DuVal Ranches, Granada, Colo., 251. Memberships in the breed organization climbed seven percent over last year to 2,998 new adult members this year. And new junior memberships hit 1,275 for a 12 percent increase.

"We find this number, which brings our total membership to nearly 46,000, to be especially encouraging in view of the financial difficulties and weather extremes the beef industry has faced this past year," said APHA President Dr. T. D. "Dusty" Rich. "It's also interesting to note that those increased memberships are following on the heels of a whopping 23.7 percent increase the previous year."

the Bath, S.D.-based Gullikson Polled Herefords retained the top spot it gained last year with 684 registrations this year.

Other leading registrants, with 250 or more, and the number of calves they entered on the APHA record were: Ogechee Farms, Fairland, Okla., 580; Antonio Mountain Ranch, Petaluma, Calif., 501; Glenkirk Farms, Maysville, Mo., 441; Wooden Shoe Farms, Othello, Wash., 348; Joe Harvey, Jaktin, Ga., 316; E. B. Gas Ranch, East Prairie, Mo., 306; Felton Hereford Ranch, Maryville, Mo., 284; J. Hoy Hathorn, Louisville, Miss., 278; Lowell Burgett, Seabey, Mont., 272; C.M.R. Senatobia, Miss., 267; and DuVal Ranches, Granada, Colo., 251.

Memberships in the breed organization climbed seven percent over last year to 2,398 new adult members this year. And new junior memberships hit 1,276 for a 12 percent increase.

"We find this number, which brings our total membership to nearly 45,000, to be especially encouraging in view of the financial difficulties and weather extremes the beef industry has faced this past year," said APHA President Dr. T. D. "Dusty" Rich. "It's also interesting to note that these increased memberships are following on the heels of a whopping 23.7 percent increase the previous year."

SANTA CIRCUIT

by Buddy Smith

In a period of nine days over a million female. She was shown by David Crawford. It was good to see "Mr. Bill" now retired, out and about again after being confined with a lung related health problem.

Speaking of El Colina, that brings to mind the "Apache 42" bloodline and the man, Archie Bailey, who originally owned the Diamond S Ranch at Achille, Oklahoma, has changed ownership. This is the ranch that has produced the breed record for Grand Champion female awards. "Starlet" 503 set a record as twelve times Grand Champion female at approved SGBI shows. But records are made to be broken and broken it was. The full sister of 503, "Starlet" 703 won Grand Champion female thirteen times. The 503 cow was sold at the last World Congress held in Brazil. The 703 cow was put in the embryo transfer program where she yielded ten confirmed pregnancies by "Rocky". The cow that started it all was Diamond S Ranch's 252. She is presently enrolled in embryo transfer at Rio Vista.

Robert Sabinske, Dallas, Texas, has sold his Diamond S Ranch to Gono Phillips. The ranch, equipment, herd and herd number were sold in their entirety to Gene. The ranch will continue to operate as it has in the past under the able management of Dub Knappek. At the present time they are adding to their land holdings and increasing their genetic base by the acquisition of some of the breed's leading herd sires. Dub will be assisted by Gene's brother, Ned Phillips. Welcome to the breed, Gene and Ned!

The 1980 National Santa Gertrudis show recently held in Tulsa, Oklahoma, is now history. Judge Wylie Tallaferra selected a Bill Deagen & Sons cow 8/122 for this Grand Champion female. This was her third consecutive championship. Reserve Grand Champion female honors went to J. L. and Hal Jeans' summer yearling heifer. Grand Champion bull honors went to Mayfair Ranches' two year old bull "Mountain Mac" 810. Reserve Grand Champion bull honors went to Congrove Ranches' summer yearling bull 129.

One of the breed's top young herd sires, "Walking Tall", has been sold to the Diamond S Ranch. "Walking Tall" was produced by Bob White's Bar 1W Ranch of Fort Payne, Alabama.

The Heart of Dixie Sale, sponsored by Blackwater Farms, has the makings of being the top sale in the Southeast again this year. A list of it's consignors reads like Who's Who in the Santa Gertrudis world. Consigning to the sale will be breeders from Texas to Georgia, Alabama to Oklahoma and Virginia. The sale will be held at Cullman, Alabama, on October 27.

The Kentucky National Santa Gertrudis Show and Sale will be held on November 17, at Louisville, Kentucky. This sale has an outstanding offering of better broken show animals this year. Being offered are some top proven herd sires, three-in-one packages and yearling heifers that still have another year and half of show eligibility.

The Poll Santa Gertrudis Association Haller Sale has been moved back to the Houston Livestock Show where it began. It will be held on the same day as the Mid-Coast Santa Gertrudis Association Super Sale. Nominations are now being taken for both sales. For more information contact Superior Sales, Rt. 2, Box 345, Huntsville, Texas 77340 or call 713/201-1891, 295-4401.

showed him. I ran into Archie at the Tulsa State Fair. He's now living outside of Tulsa and running a few cows of his own. Archie was the manager of the San Cayetano Ranch in Tumacacori, Arizona, and was one of the first men to show Santos.

Texas Monthly magazine recently had an article on the King Ranch. If you haven't read it, you missed a good one. SGBI is in the process of putting out a publication on selecting, fitting and showing Santa heifers for the Junior members. If you have a favorite feed ration or some good ideas, let Dan Talbot hear from you.

See you down the road...

It was quite a weekend for young David Crawford of Scurry, Texas. His Masterpiece heifer, with a Chaparral calf at side, topped the Premier Santa Gertrudis Sale Oct. 5 at $10,000. Purchaser was L&L Farms of Decatur, Ark., one of the breeds strongest supporters of youth, represented by Dennis Alsop and Geary Stutts.

The new definition of a farm is any establishment from which $1000 or more of agricultural products are sold or would normally be sold during a year. In 1979, there were 2,850,070 farms in the United States. The number of farms are gradually declining.

Santa Gertrudis cross replacement heifer

All-Polled Santa Gertrudis Sale

Tulsa — The All-Polled Santa Gertrudis sale here Sept. 27 saw active bidding by buyers from Kansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. Buddy Smith's Superior Sales of Huntsville, Texas, managed, and Bill Jordan of Hempstead, Texas, auctioneered the sale.

Bulls averaged $2,300; bred females $1,440; and pairs $2,318. Sanders Land & Cattle Co. of White Lake, N.M., was top volume buyer of four lots; and Bill Amis of Lindale, Texas, and Travis Cosgrove of Coalgate, Okla., each bought three lots. A bred female with calf at side consigned by Cosgrove Ranches of Coalgate was the high selling lot for which Amis paid $8,400. The double polled cow's calf was by and she was rebred to Cosgrove 74.

CORRECTION

Editor Weekly Livestock Reporter

In your issue on September 16, 1980, in the Santa Gertrudis News, it was stated that I, Eldon Flowers of Miami, Texas, was the contending bidder on the high to L. & L. Farms of Decatur, Arkansas, $35,000. I was present at the sale, however, I did not bid on this bull or any other animal during this sale. In the past two weeks, I have looked at your paper, that I can or will give you your price for their bull or bulls. I feel that you should print a correction on the item. I do insist that it be in the issue carrying Santa Gertrudis News. I want to see it placed in The Santa Gertrudis News. I have witnesses who will verify this statement.

Yours truly,
Eldon Flowers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Happy to oblige you, Mr. Flowers. — Ted Gouldy.

This polled bull consigned by San Jose Cattle Co., Pleasanton, topped the Pioneer Santa Gertrudis Breeders sale at Shelton Ranches at Kerrville, Oct. 2. Bobby Shelton, left, purchased the sale-topper for $35,000. Celebrating Shelton is Perry Bass of San Jose Cattle Co.

Randy Leffesto, left, general ranch manager for Superior Land & Cattle Co., Allie, with members of the Keating family, owners of Continental Ranch at Phoenix, Ariz., buyers of the top-selling female in the Pioneer Santa Gertrudis Breeders Sale for $13,000.

1980 Milk Production Highest on Record

Milk production this fall will be about 2% above a year ago, primarily due to the expanded dairy herd. Thus, total 1980 output will be the largest on record, topping the previous high of 107 billion pounds in 1964, and 8% more than in 1979. More favorable demand conditions—a strengthening general economy and higher meat prices—could increase commercial use of dairy products. However, a large supply of milk for manufacturing purposes, large USDA stocks and the Commodity Credit Corporation's (CCC) 100% sellback policy will limit potential price advances. In late September, wholesale butter and cheese prices were near the higher support purchase level, in anticipation of higher CCC prices effective October 1. Farm milk prices and retail dairy product prices will tend to follow these increases in coming months.

SANTA GERTRUDIS

Not All Females
All Created Equal...

These Nine Bar Ranch heifers have a head start both genetically and environmentally. Their dams excel in mothering ability or they wouldn't be in production as Nine Bar... and their proven sires are some of the best of the Santa Gertrudis breed!

They were selected, however, on their own merits — good udders, size, conformation and femininity. Needless to say, we're satisfied with our selection or they wouldn't be advertised.

For replacement females that are a "cut above," look to Nine Bar for your needs.

We have 2-year-old bulls and heifers for sale now at the ranch. Stop by when you are in our area and we'll be glad to show you around.

vaccination program followed, but it soon became evident that vaccinated pigs were dying as quickly as non-vaccinated pigs. Veterinarians diagnosed African swine fever in July 1978.

But by then the disease had spread across the country. Meanwhile, the effects of the virus had changed. It was killing fewer pigs but survivors were weak and poorer producers of protein.

Government officials discussed many alternative plans for eradicating the disease but cost-benefit studies favored eliminating all the pigs as the least expensive eradication procedure with the highest probability of success.

So the government made the decision — unique in the history of Western Hemisphere — to eliminate an entire domestic animal species and start fresh with new swine, free of African swine fever and many other diseases.

"By February of 1980 the entire swine population in the eastern part of the Dominican Republic had been destroyed," said Saul Wilson, USDA's chief technical advisor to the Dominican Republic's African swine fever eradication program.

"President Antonio Guzman extended the campaign to the entire country and all remaining swine were killed by September," Wilson said.

"We had to win the cooperation of the rural population, so the Dominican government launched a major public information effort to tell farmers they

Caribbean Nation Kills All Its Hogs

They've killed every single hog in the Dominican Republic.

This small Caribbean country of 5.1 million people has become the major battleground in the fight against African swine fever in the Western Hemisphere, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture veterinarians.

To free itself of this costly swine disease, the Dominican Republic has now eliminated its entire swine population as a prelude to restocking with healthy pigs, says USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service — the agency responsible for animal disease control in this country.

Pigs have always played a critical role in the lives of the Dominicans. Besides regular commercial production for domestic use and exports, nearly all rural families keep a few animals — for daily use, the traditional Christmas roast pig or for quick cash. These hogs are usually kept in rural families' backyards or run loose in neighborhoods — converting practically any food available into protein.

However, in the spring of 1978, pigs began dying mysteriously. And as is common when African swine fever enters a new location, the disease was mistaken for hog cholera. An intensive Crawford Ranch at Carrizo Springs bought the high selling female lot for $5,500. Briggs Ranches at San Antonio bought the second high Santa Gertrudis bull for $10,000.

Burnett Ranch of Port Worth paid $63,000 for Poppy San 81a, a Quarter Horse mare; Raymond Brown of Austin paid $28,000 for a sorrel stallion colt; and GLS Ranch of West Chicago paid $17,000 for a chestnut stallion foaled in 1979.

would receive a fair price for their hogs that were to be destroyed," Wilson said.

Farmers had the option of slaughtering their pigs on the spot for family consumption or being paid money. Meat from hogs that have African swine fever is not harmful to humans who eat it, Wilson said.

"The government distributed poultry to help feed rural families during the time before they could reintroduce disease-free swine," he said. "Extension veterinarians gave rural groups lectures and demonstrations to help them learn to manage poultry."

After pigs were killed, the area must go through a three-month waiting period to make sure the virus has been destroyed, Wilson said.

"Then susceptible swine from the United States are introduced as 'sentinels' to test whether the virus is still present," Wilson said. "If the sentinel pigs remain healthy for three months, the government will begin restocking with new pigs. So far, two shipments of healthy U.S. pigs have been placed as sentinels in the eastern 'pilot' region of the country. None have shown any symptoms of African swine fever."

Countrywide, the process of no pigs, sentinel pigs and gradual restocking will take close to a year, Wilson said.

Buffalo Turbine Sprayer Ideal For Spraying Fire Ant Insecticide

San Antonio, Tx. — Ranchers and Farmers who are in need of a machine which offers economy and accuracy in the dispersion of insecticides should take a look at the Buffalo Turbine Sprayer/Duster. This machine offered by Buffalo Turbine Ag Sales of San Antonio, is an all-purpose machine that disperses insecticides in the form of dust, granules, diluted sprays or pellets and concentrates. Current attention has been placed on this machine as a method for applying Amdro, the first insecticide approved by the EPA since June, 1978, for fire ant control.

"With 105 counties in Texas now affected by the imported fire ant, the Buffalo Turbine Sprayer offers a most effective and accurate method to apply Amdro in controlling this costly problem," stated Mills Reeves of this San Antonio B. T. sales company. A survey by the American Farm Bureau Federation found that farmers are suffering losses of $10 to $30 per crop acre in areas infested by fire ants.

The heart of the machine is the Buffalo Turbine axial flow blower. The turbine is a unit in itself that is a piece of precision machinery so engineered and assembled as to require little attention.

No adjustments are necessary in the fan, as it is a complete unit within itself and provides long and heavy duty.

"The versatility of equipment is important," states Reeves. "The B. T. unit performs efficiency in a variety of tasks which allows the user a means for all his spraying, dusting, seeding, fertilizing, and in addition he can use it to provide fire protection for his crops or rural holdings, plus operate for dust control and building roads."

A high velocity stream of approximately 175 miles per hour delivered from the axial flow blower used in this machine will produce an even pattern of spray, dust, granules or pellets for about 160 to 200 feet from the 12 inch round nozzle. For more information about this machine and its use, contact Mills Reeves, Buffalo Turbine Ag Sales, Box 10458, San Antonio, Tx. 78210, 512-632-3846.

Be sure and read "NEW STUFF" in the Weekly Livestock Reporter. It will be a monthly feature.

Y-Tex Marketing All American Ear Tags

A challenge has gone out to the imported ear tags from the All American ear tags from Y-Tex Corporation of Cody, Wyoming.

The challenge is to compare the imported ear tag to the American ear tag. The imported ear tags are manufactured overseas and shipped into the USA for sale. Meat and fiber shipments also come into the USA onto our markets from the foreign country.

The All American Super Star ear tags are made in Cody, Wyoming, USA. Compare shape: Imported tags are square. All American tags are sloped for less chance of snag and catching.

Compare buttons: Imported tag buttons are hollow allowing the applicator pin to penetrate every ear. The All American tag button has a solid tip so that each button just penetrates one ear giving less chance of spreading infection from ear to ear.

Compare applicators: The imported applicator is like a pair of pliers with a narrow throat. The American Tagger II has a wide-open throat designed for ear tag use, not to pinch the ears.

Y-Tex Ear Tags are manufactured and distributed by Y-Tex Corporation.

For more information write to P.O. Box 1480, Cody, Wyoming 82414, phone 307-587-5515.

Head Off Anaplasmosis Losses

To many cattlemen, the first sign of anaplasmosis is finding a dead animal. Readily visible symptoms are apparent only when the disease is in the advanced stages. Anaplasmosis remains virtually undetectable throughout the incubation stage which usually lasts for about 18 to 20 days and is clinically apparent for only a few days during the developmental stage.

Late summer and early fall months are periods when an increased number of acute outbreaks are encountered. The earliest clinically detectable signs of disease are those shown as a result of anemia. Affected animals lose vigor, are lethargic, and tend to separate themselves from the herd and seclude themselves in shaded areas. When going to the pasture or returning in the evening they are found to lag behind the herd.

At this time they can be treated and respond well to antibiotic therapy. Failure to detect cases at this early period usually results in death losses and an increased incidence of the disease in the remainder of the herd. Delays in treatment are costly as a third to one-half of the animals functioning red cells are lost in a 4 or 5-day period after symptoms are first noted. At this time treatments are often unsuccessful.

If anaplasmosis is suspected or diagnosed, consult with your veterinarian. Recent developments in antibiotics, vaccines, and their usage makes it possible to head off costly outbreaks and provide continuous protection to the unaffected portion of the herd.

Compare Shape

The imported tag has a square shape. The All American tag has sloped shoulders for less chance of snag and catching. Also the American tag has a longer neck to let you see more of the tag around the ear hole.

Compare Colors

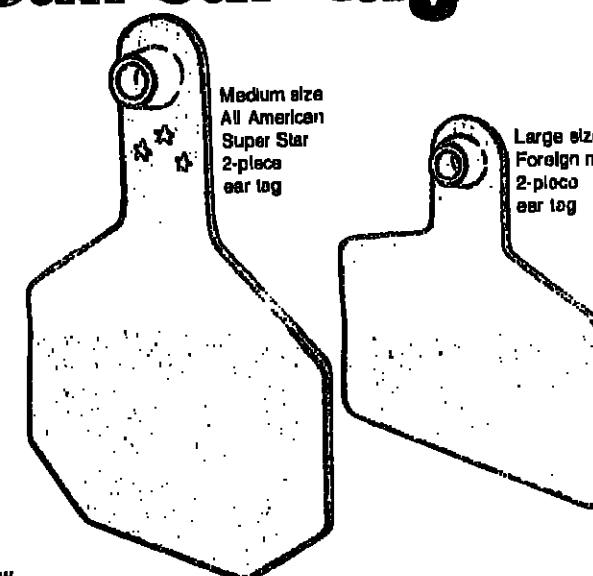

The imported tags come in eight colors: yellow, blue, green, white, red, orange, purple and black. The All American tags come in seven colors: yellow, orange, white, red, black, green, and blue.

Compare Sizes

The imported tags come in four sizes: round, medium, large and maxi. The All American tags come in five sizes: round, mini, small, medium and large. This large size has more letter space than any tag on the market.

Compare Buttons

The imported tag button is hollow allowing the applicator pin to penetrate every ear. The All American tag button has a solid tip so that each button just penetrates one ear giving less chance of spreading infection from ear to ear.

GT Introduces New Recirculating Batch Dryer

Gilmore & Tatge announces a new 1980 Recirculating Batch Dryer, Models 580 and 590.

The GT 580 features a holding capacity of 500 bu with a drying capacity of 335 bu/hr. based on removing 8 pts of moisture. Under most drying conditions, a GT 580 will dry and cool 500 bu of 25.5% in less than two hours. The GT 590 offers a holding capacity of 350 bu with a 235 bu/hr. drying rate based on removing of 8 pts of moisture.

The new dryer model is engineered to handle all grains, large and small, in one dryer. The outer wall features small 1/16" perforations to retain even the smallest grains such as rapeseed. The plenum chamber has larger 3/8" perforations to allow free passage of heated air through the entire grain column. Small seeds may fall through the larger plenum perforations (they will not lodge and plug the holes) but they will fall harmlessly to the bottom of the dryer and will be recirculated with the rest of the grain. This feature makes the dryer more versatile for multi-crop operations.

Standard equipment includes: four new tires, PTO Tumbler Shaft, six jack stands, ladder, grain sampler, fan clutch, and vaporizer for all-weather drying.

Accessories available include a grain cleaner (row of moving parts, long flexible unloading spout, hydraulic unloading head for low clearance storage or transport, side mount kit for electric motor drive and snorkel kit for worry-free drying of sunflowers.

The dryer is completely self contained and portable for simple transport or storage under shelter. Average set-up time is approximately 30 minutes.

For more information about the GT 580 dryer, contact Gilmore & Tatge, Inc., Box 625, Clay Center, Kansas 67432.

Agro Offers Three New High-Yielding Corn Hybrids

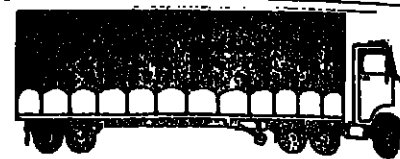

Three new corn hybrids from Agrow Seed Company have demonstrated high yield potential in tests throughout the Cornbelt.

RX511, adapted for the northern Cornbelt, has outyielded other hybrids of comparable maturity by 10-15 bushels per acre in tests in Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois. In those tests, it averaged 139-153 bushels per acre. The single-cross hybrid has a maturity range from 95-100 days and averages 8'6" in height with ears setting above four feet.

Agrow's RX777 is tolerant to anthracnose and leaf diseases and is resistant to northern leaf blight. In state yield tests in Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, it averaged 170 bushels per acre. Average yield of all hybrids in the tests was 160 bushels per acre. The RX777 is adapted for a wide range of the Cornbelt.

Another new hybrid, RX 855, has demonstrated exceptional yields for its maturity, a 90- to 95-day corn. This single-cross hybrid has a strong root system and carries ears moderately high. It has demonstrated vigorous early season growth, making it particularly adaptable for northern growing areas.

In addition to offering a broad selection of corn hybrids, Agrow Seed Company, a subsidiary of The Upjohn Company, produces and markets hybrid sorghum and branded soybean seed.

Our Girl Friday...

By ANN SYLER

To those of you who missed the Brangus festivities in Little Rock, may I say "what a shame" as I don't know when or where we have been so happily and pleasantly entertained! For example, the banquet. Just the word "banquet" usually causes most folks to hastily walk the other way, justifiably so. But this one had an hour long performance by 4 belly dancers (and from a strictly female point of view I'll say that their costumes were the most beautiful I've ever seen) and one dancer did a routine with a sword balanced on her head. Then there was the speaker who was to give a statistical report on the cattle business, but after 45 minutes of continuous jokes he decided his time limit had expired and we'd have to look up the statistics for ourselves. Among the tales he told was: "Do you know how dry it got on my farm in Grant County this summer? It was so dry that the fish had ticks on them!" That will give you an idea of why most people were crying from laughing.

Also during the banquet, the Sire of the Year Award was presented to the owners of "860." During the Show of Merit Sale — the first-ever Brangus Sale held in a ballroom — John Hester was able to adroitly remove the hats of Gerald Bowie and Matt Syler, and replace them with the very large, red University of Arkansas Razorback Hog hats and we had a few welcoming words by Jerry Clowers, of comedy and music fame. The sale averaged about triple more than any past Show of Merit Sale — please see the complete report in this issue. Back to the belly dancers — the morning after the banquet the teachers at a tremendous sale, dinner and dance following, and it's always nice to report several brand new Brangus breeders got started in the business at this sale, as was the case at the Pan-American and the sale at Waxahachie on the following day. Cattle in all of these sales went to Texas, Nebraska, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, and Georgia.

This issue will be the last Brangus issue before election day — perhaps one of the most important elections in many, many years. The comment is often made "just my one vote won't make any difference," and it probably won't. But the reason for casting this vote is because it's YOURS! — one of the few things in the world that is yours exclusively and can be owned by no one else anywhere, anytime.

I trust all of you have noticed that the date of the Cawley Ranch Sale has been changed from Monday, Nov. 8, to Monday Nov. 10 at San Angelo. This way, buyers at this sale, which always include ranchers from New Mexico, Oklahoma and wide areas of Texas, will be home on election day, Nov. 4, and not on the road traveling. So Jay and Jim Cawley are doing their part — everyone else do theirs and vote! I won't even mention here about how we hope you cast your ballot, but a small due might be that I have not actively worked in a campaign since 1964 — my side (conservative) lost that one but "in your heart you know he was right!" Hope my side doesn't lose this time.

NEWS about LIMOUSIN

Arkansas Limousin Diamond Jubilee Sale Oct. 19, Russellville

Russellville, Ark. — Dr. Warren Center, secretary-treasurer of the Arkansas Limousin Organization, has announced that the ARKLO's Arkansas Diamond Jubilee All-Select Limousin Sale will be held Oct. 19, beginning at 2:30 p.m. at the Pope County Fairgrounds in Russellville. Auctioneer and sale consultant will be C. K. "Sonny" Booth of Miami, Okla.

Selling will be 75 lots of solid color full-French purebred and percentage Limousin, individually selected by Gary Harding, director of the National Limousin Bull Test at Corners State College.

Harding said, "Because I could choose from the top of every herd, I have selected a group of cattle that would improve any herd I've seen."

"This is really a top notch set of cattle — especially the seven-eighth pairs. They are truly exceptional."

This group of cattle were selected for uniformity, with emphasis on size, correct muscling and skeletal formation.

"This set of cattle could improve anyone's herd," Harding said.

The sale selection will include: Hampton Loverboy, winner of the get-of-sire at the 1979 Arkansas State Fair; Slick Rock's Hulk, embryo transplant son of Hanchon that weighs 1,600 pounds at 16 months; seven bred seven-eighth females; five 15/16th pairs; 18 seven-eighth pairs; 17 bred three-quarter females; six three-quarter pairs; three bred halfbloods; one open seven-eighth female; one full-French open heifer; and 16 Spring 1980 club calves.

Limousin Breeder Gets Commercial Cowman Award

Denver — A Morris, Minn. Limousin breeder recently received the Minnesota Commercial Cattlemen of the Year award.

The award, conferred on Leonard Wulf, is sponsored by the Minnesota Beef Cattle Improvement Association (MBCIA). A committee, appointed by MBCIA and staffed by university and extension personnel, considered several factors when deciding the winner.

The committee chose Wulf for his work in upgrading a commercial Limousin cow herd using performance testing and selection. Wulf has used the newest and most desirable management practices and many times has successfully used techniques not yet proven. His inventiveness is apparent in all phases of his operation — cow/calf, feedlot and row crop.

He began breeding Limousin in 1970, the first year he started performance testing. Through performance testing and selection, he increased weaning weights from 360 to 620 pounds.

The final factor considered was his leadership abilities. He has been on the board of directors of the Minnesota Beef Council Board and the West Central Cattleman's Association. Currently, he is on the board of directors of the North American Limousin Foundation and the Minnesota Limousin Association. He has served Minnesota Limousin breeders as president the past eight years.

Wulf and his wife, Violet, actively support 4-H and FFA and are deeply involved in the Apollistic Christian Church, where Wulf has served as trustee and chaired many committees. In past years, he has served on the school board, elevator board and phone company board.

The American Royal Livestock Show, held in Kansas City, Mo., will start the week-long string of Limousin shows. A Sire and Heifer Club Calf Prospect Show and Sale will signal the beginning of Limousin events at the American Royal. Held November 15, the show will be at 2 p.m. and the sale at 4 p.m.

Junior Limousin breeders will be highlighted at noon, November 16 as the Junior Limousin Heifer Show gets underway. One of many Junior Limousin shows held throughout the country, the American Royal Junior Limousin show promises to draw top junior breeders from many states with $1,000 in premiums.

A Regional Open Limousin Show will conclude Limousin activities at the American Royal. Scheduled for November 17 at 9 a.m., the American Royal open show is one of the Regional Open Limousin Shows leading to the National Open Limousin Show to be held during Denver's National Western Stock Show.

Texas Longhorn News

By Bill Lourcy, Jr.
Texas Longhorns are strong and getting stronger every day. We've seen some tremendous sales recently in which new price records were set with each succeeding sale. We expect to see more of this in other sales coming up in the next few days.

The Wichita Mountain Wildlife Refuge sale at Cache, Okla., didn't break records, but was an exceedingly good sale at that. The cows averaged $2,567; bulls $2,800; steers $1,450; heifer calves $3,467; and had an overall average of $2,079.

But the Baker-Doherty sale Sept. 19 at Lawton, Okla., did set a new Longhorn price record, reflecting both the quality of the cattle from some of the largest private herds in Oklahoma and Kansas: the Baker's Safari B Ranch and Pat Baker at Elk City, Okla., and the Doherty Longhorn Ranch at Ft. Scott, Kan. They sold some of their best breeding stock for a sale average of $3,834, the highest ever in a Texas Longhorn sale. This reflected the interest in their quality herds and championship breeding programs, as well as the growing awareness of Longhorns' contribution to beef production.

Champion bull in that sale was purchased by H. C. Gurtner of Austin, Texas, for $4,700; reserve champion bull by Richard Lovorn of Troup, Texas, for $2,700; champion pair by Red McCombs and John Roberts of San Antonio, Texas, for $12,200; reserve champion pair by Russell OBT Farms, Saline, Michigan, for $26,000; champion cow by Spring Lakes Ranch of Aquila, Texas, for $10,000; and reserve champion heifer by Wright Materials Headquarters of Robstown, Texas, for $4,200. The high selling heifer was purchased by Carson River Ranch, Silver Springs, Nev., for $16,000. Volume buyers were Red McCombs and John Roberts of San Antonio, and Gene Bartnicki of Spring

Texas Longhorn Breeders Involved In Feedlot Study

The Texas Longhorn Breeders Association of America is furthering its breed research commitment through a feedlot study now taking place under the direction of Dr. Lowell Schake, a researcher at Texas A & M University in Uvalde, Texas.

Involving 80 cross-bred and 80 straight-bred Texas Longhorn steers, the research study will help characterize attributes of Texas Longhorn cattle as applicable to the commercial breeder.

Research will consist of data being collected during the feeding process and will culminate with the listing of grades after slaughter. Actual data and findings will be made available when the research project is completed early this summer.

In addition to the feedlot study in Uvalde, the Texas Longhorn Breeders Association of America is also involved in such projects as: "Resistance to Toxic Vegetation," at Oregon State University; "Resistance to Internal and External Parasites," at Texas A & M University; "Fertility," at Texas A & M University; "Pounds of Beef Weaned Per Unit," at Angelo State University; and "Environmental Stress," at the University of Missouri.

Lakes Ranch at Aquila, Texas. We congratulate the Bakers and Dohertys for having such an outstanding offering and the buyers for showing such appreciation of their programs.

But we doubt the record average price will last long, especially with a number of other outstanding sales coming up: notably Larry Smith's in Fort Worth Stockyards on Oct. 11; the famous YO Ranch production sale at Mountain Home on Oct. 31; and Red McCombs bull futurity and sale on Nov. 1 at Johnson City.

We're looking forward to seeing you at these events.

Oklahoma's Texas Longhorn Association Begins Activities

Lawton, Okla. — Joe Mueggengberg, president of the Oklahoma Texas Longhorn Association, welcomed members and guests to the association's first activity on Sept. 18, a dinner and dance. Persons were present from around the United States and the event proved highly successful in obtaining new members for the association.

Members from various Longhorn associations around the country included: Jerry and Pat Cook, Fort Worth; Gene and Julie Bartnicki, Aquila, Texas; Jenn Wickland and Bob Shultz from Castle Rock, Colo.; Danny and Linda Davidson of Estelline, Texas; and Peter and Didi Lang of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Texas Longhorns Featured In Texas A & M Research

Dr. Jerry Caldwell, a project research director at the Immunogenetics Labor Animal Science Department at Texas A & M University in College Station, has found evidence of genetic material indicating a gene pool in the Texas Longhorn cattle that differs from other breeds in North America.

The research has indicated that some of the Texas Longhorn cattle tested could be pure-bred descendants of the original cattle brought by early Spanish settlers.

"Even though our research involves all breeds of cattle, I have a special interest in the Texas Longhorn," says Dr. Caldwell.

First brought to "New Spain," i.e. Mexico and Texas, by Gregorio de Villalobos in 1521, the longhorned cattle roamed the vastlands of Texas and survived the ravages of weather, Indian raids and trail drives.

"Since the Texas Longhorn has been raised under natural conditions and subjected to natural resources, I am not amazed at their ability to propagate and survive under the most adverse conditions imaginable."

Milk To Be Supported
At 80% Of Parity

Washington — Manufacturing milk will be supported at 80 percent of the Oct. 1 parity price, according to Ray Fitzgerald, executive vice president of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation. The exact support price will be determined after USDA's Sept. 30 "agricultural prices" report is released. However, Fitzgerald said, USDA economists expect the support price will be about $12.75 per hundredweight for milk with a milkfat content of 8.5 percent, compared with the present support of $12.07.

Berglund Replies to Critics of Consumer-Oriented USDA Moves

1982 budget cycle.
 Would you please comment on the following consumer oriented programs initiated or expanded by this Administration:

— Child Nutrition Programs. Our regulations require that every meal served in the School Lunch Program contain a grain product such as bread.
 Thus, a major part of the $5 billion to be spent on child nutrition in the coming year will purchase the production of your members.

— Dietary Guidelines. One of the legislative mandates to USDA is to engage in human nutrition research and education. The fourth guideline in "Nutrition and Your Health" suggests that Americans should eat foods with adequate starch and fiber—such as whole grain breads and cereals.

— Food stamps. USDA will spend about $10 billion this year to help low-income Americans purchase foods in the marketplace. A significant amount goes for bread.

— Grain Inspection. Up until 1977, under the doctrine of buyer beware, short weighing and adulteration of grain was commonplace among some exporters. We have instituted a tough new Federal program of grain inspections assuring foreign grain consumers that they will get what they pay for.

— Wheat Promotion. The Agricultural Marketing Service is making final arrangements to implement the Wheat and Wheat Foods Research and Information Act which NAWG supported in the 1977 farm bill. This Board will supervise a program on consumer information.

— Market Development. One of USDA's major consumer efforts is our overseas market development which helps meet dietary needs of consumers overseas. As part of this program we are cooperating with U.S. Wheat Association, Inc. in the construction of a demonstration bakery in China.

— Food for Peace. P.L. 480 allocations of wheat and wheat flour in the Fiscal Year 1980 totaled $536.7 million, helping the poorest consumers in the world.

Each of these "consumer-oriented" programs is significant for the wheat producers of the United States. The loss of any of them would not serve the interests of America's wheat producers.

Although this Administration is committed to serving the broadest interests of America's farm and ranch families, it would be possible to refocus USDA's mission so, as you suggest, it would serve only the narrow interests in agriculture.

Let us examine what this Department would look like under such a hypothesis.
 — Forestry programs would be transferred to the Interior Department as many have suggested in the past.

— School lunch and child nutrition programs would go to the Department of Education.

— Food Stamp activities would logically be part of the Department of Health and Human Services.

— Market Development efforts would be moved to the trade section of the Department of Commerce.

— Food safety concerns would be exclusively those of the Food and Drug Administration in the Department of Health and Human Services.

— Copper-Volstead enforcement would be the exclusive jurisdiction of the Federal Trade Commission and the Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice.

— International commodity negotiations would be the responsibility of the Department of State and the U.S. Trade Representative's office.

— Rural Development programs would go to the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Economic Development Administration.

— REA would be in the Department of Energy.

Few among us could honestly believe that Agriculture could indefinitely maintain its status in a Presidential Cabinet if it were an agency that dealt only with price support activities, marketing orders, the purely agricultural parts of plant, disease programs, and some agricultural data collection activities.
 Please also remember, as functions are transferred in the Executive Branch,
